WANAMAKER'S

Meritorious Bits of Art

In the Basement, near Broadway, we've an art store that appeals to those of refined tastes. Seems strange to put it that way? It is necessary. Choice pieces of sculptured marble from Italy; handsome bronzes from France; bits of ceramic beauty from all countries noted for china and porcelain making and decorating.

It's a busy place, especially now, but a careful, orderly place for all—that a store frequented by nice people looking for nice things for gifts.

This isn't the only store carrying such stocks, but it is the only store we know of that sells such goods at prosaic, fair prices.

There are pieces of Royal Vienna ware at $3 and at $400—and between. Marbles at $5 to $125—we're only talking of smaller pieces. Plates at $2 and $12 a piece, and many between-prices.

These gilt tables with Vienna plaque are noticeably handsome. $30 to $55. The Dresden cabinets are $35 to $70.

The finest onyx pedestal is $200. This one is $65, and there are others.

Pieces of Vienna glass are giveable. $1.75 to $17.50.

These German plaques are of cameo-like beauty, but inexpensive. $1 to $12.

And you can't tell a thing about any of these bits of beauty until you have seen them.

Attractions: The Halsey-Stirling Paintings from London. Half-hour exhibitions, 10:30 and 11:30 a. m. and 3 and 4:30 p. m. Third floor.

The Kitchell Madonna—the most wonderful composite picture ever made. Fifth floor.

Holiday Tableaux in the Rotunda.

Two candy stores—basement and at 76 E. Ninth street.

Two book stores—Ninth street side and across the street at No. 74 E. Ninth.

Women's Suits from Paris AT HALF PRICE

You know we are never content with a few models, but each season show well on to two hundred Paris Gowns. Well, twenty-five are still here—you know their elegance. To-day all are marked at just half the first full price. Now $80 to $225.

Some New York tailored suits are reduced, as well—

$20 for suits from lots at $32 to $40.

$25 for suits from lots at prices up to $54.

$30 for suits from lots at prices up to $64.

And some Imported Tailored Suit at $60.

We don't often have such news as this to print.

Second door, Broadway.

Special Show of New Silks

We are so proud of the new printed Foulard and Shanghai silks (really meant for first showing next April) that we open them today in a special salon—second floor—a part of the millinery store.

We chose the designs last summer in London and they have been worked out since—and hand-printed on these serviceable, satisfactory fabrics. Foulards, $1.10, $1.25 and $1.35.

Shanghai, $1, $1.25 and $1.50.

Charming colorings, with printings of coral forms, shadowy foliage, palms, Persian blocks and lace effects.

To see and to sell, this morning.

Second door, Broadway.

If It's a Present for a Man:

Perhaps you've decided it shall be a gift of utility, but have got no further. Let us suggest. Why not something to wear—something in which usefulness, comfort and elegance are all happily combined? Say a house-coat. There's the kind that will please in this carefully chosen assortment—they're all in good taste.

House Coats at $3.75 to $16.50. At the first price, cotton-and-wool mixtures in light and dark colorings. Some of tri-cot, satin bound, at $4.50. And at $5 to $10, at least fifty patterns of double-faced cloth. There are velvet coats at $10—exceptionally fine ones at $16.50. The latter in brown, blue and black, made up in excellent style.

Dressing Gowns—No less varied a gathering of these. Choose at $10 to $35—covers at the lower price, elegantly trimmed silk crepon gowns at the higher price. And lots of other well-made, tasteful garments at prices between those extremes.

Bath Robes—Soft, warm, luxurious garments. Sets of eiderdown at $2.75—sets of rich, soft blankets at $18 and $20. Other eiderdown robes at $4 to $7. And some domestic blankets at $3 and $9. Of Terry cloth a half dozen good kinds—$3.75 to $10. Wool-filled Terry robes at $13.50 and $18.
